Hi!

I have put the points to Mr Horsley re the inquest date and the statements. Also I believe Stephen will write to him but be careful not to alienate him.

Currently the ball is in Mr Horsley's court but if we do not get any more action by early next week, we may need to jump over the net and speak with him again.

Sorry no news yet but I do feel a date will be fixed soon.

Best wishes

In view of comments in the public domain (Duggan) Radio 4 Today – what have you done regarding my strong views on missing Nurses/care workers' statements Brewer/Baldochino , or even Moss. I witnessed Langdale QC argue at the GMC hearing that "something must have happened to my mother when being conveyed from Haslar to Gosport by ambulance – why are the statements from the ambulance crew stating nothing happened not included in the official disclosures ? I strongly allege any pain caused was at the point that Baldochino , Moss and Brewer tried to get the sheet extracted from under my mother on which she was transported without a canvas . They must have "rolled " her to one side towards the wall to pull the sheet out i.e. onto her right hip to pull the sheet out.

Why are these statements - or even transcripts of interviews missing from official disclosures - please ensure my comments are conveyed to Tooks.

How far have we "advanced" re. an inquest date - It does not take another fortnight or years longer to come up with an agreed date for the barristers. I have no doubt having waited so long that decision will be January hoping I will have popped off by then. I will attend that inquest by any means even if it is only as dust borne on the breeze from the four corners of the globe - if I have not gone public by then . This is the "go slow" of all time . My blood pressure is going up by the minute .

What is happening about this anonymous phone call – I do not expect to be given her name – but Bradley or Blake Laphorn could ensure a "hand is put on her shoulder" The chain on my front door is permanently on. If she has my ex directory number she probably has my address.

If I am right re my comments on disclosures , how does this reflect on the relatives/ cases you represented at the previous inquests - some of whom complained that not all the evidence was "allowed" The longer this charade goes on the more queries I have. I could never understand why a complaint was not raised at the previous inquests but I did not see any of their papers . Gillian
