Hi Helen

Thank you so much for all your help with this. I will speak to John tomorrow when he is in the office to see what he says.

Kindest regards.

Hi Helen

Due to the fact that Professor Brian Livesley is now retired I am really struggling to track down his contact details. I have spoken with the administrators at the Department of medicine for the elderly (using the information contained in the link below) and they put me in touch with the Chelsea and Westminster hospital as they said this was where he last worked. However, having spoken with the secretarial team there they are saying that as he is retired they don't have contact details for him any longer. I have also checked with the Faculty of Medicine at Imperial College and they also don't have any contact details for him.

The only other information I have been able to find out about him is some active directorships that he has. N.B. There is no indication of how accurate the following website is. It may be better to ask the Company Secretarial team to run a formal directors search on his name.

Hi Helen

If you would not mind ringing to find out if they have details for Mr Livesley I would be most grateful.

Kind regards.

Hi Helen

There is a brief summary of Professor Brian Livesley's biography on the free section of Debrretts
<http://www.debrretts.com/people/biographies/browse//9756/Brian+LIVESLEY.aspx>

There are references to him on the internet as being the Emeritus professor in the care of the elderly at Imperial College London:

The attached article written on 27th March 2010 provides an email address for him of
Brian.Livesley@doctors.org.uk

<< File: Brian Livesley.pdf >>

The latest article I can find that he has written was in February 2011 and he was referring to himself as being the Emeritus professor in the care of the elderly at Imperial College London, see attached. There are however no further contact details for him.

<< File: Livesley 2.pdf >>

He also appears to still be referring to himself as the Emeritus professor in the care of the elderly at Imperial College London on the Royal College of General Practitioner's discussion forum on 21 September 2011:

http://www.rçgp.org.uk/brjgenpract/discussion\_forum.aspx

There are contact details for the department of medicine for the elderly at Imperial College at <http://www.imperial.nhs.uk/stmarys/ourservices/elderlycare/index.htm> If you'd like me to ring them and see if they have contact details for Professor Brian Livesley I am happy to do this for you, please just let me know.

Hi

I am trying to locate the contact address for the above expert but not having much luck. I was wondering if you could have a look to see if you have any luck.

Regards.
