Mary (predecessor) is running a post bereavement group as a volunteer on Dryad for relatives (meets monthly). James not sure about appropriateness of this group but doesn't know much about work done in it. My remit is pastoral care for hospital so he does little post-death support. This task should be picked up by local clergy. Many of patients on Mulberry with depression as w???? suffering grief as a result of bereavement - visits some of them. But he believes problem should be directly tackled by Trust.

Activities co-ordinator at St Christopher's plays games with patients (?????) and runs quizzes. General impression of own is that of high morale and level of commitment among staff so very surprised at media coverage and spate of enquiries like CHI's. Jan Peach is his line manager who supervises him in role as psychiatric chaplain.

Would very much like to be more actively involved in patient care planning as he feels patients' spiritual needs are neglected. However, he has never been asked to do so at GWM or volunteered. This is in contrast with other community hospitals he serves.
