Nina – experimenting with sending attachments – so please acknowledge that you can read it ! The format keeps changing with these automatic updates on my computer – and do give me an inkling re. Forrest. I shall be in London again definitely on 1 March and also before then – awaiting confirmation in February. Have you the time – or more importantly the inclination ( a joke before your time) to go through the expert medical opinions or have you already picked up more than I have? Hope all well . Gillian
