
From: Terri Judd [Code A]
Sent: 26 October 2012 12:13
To: Nina Lakhani
Subject: RE: E-mail Delivery from Nexis® UK

Frankly I don't remember the original story but will take it over no problem. Let's have a chat before you go.

-----Original Message-----

From: Nina Lakhani
Sent: 26 October 2012 12:04
To: Terri Judd
Subject: FW: E-mail Delivery from Nexis® UK

Hi Terri

I wrote a whole load of stories about the deaths at Gosport War Memorial Hospital for the Sindy (see attached file) - I understand that you covered the police case several years ago.

I am leaving in a month which means I am going to miss the final inquest in the case, that of Gladys Richards, 91, who died in 1998 - it was her daughter Gillian McKenzie who forced three police inquiries and the GMC to act. I have been working with Gillian, who is in her late 70s but brilliantly sharp and knowledgeable, for years and am gutted to be missing this.

It should be a really interesting hearing from 17-19 December, and could raise some very difficult questions for the police, Dr Jane Barton and the nurses involved.

It thought you would be the ideal person to take this over - if you're interested please let me know as I have all the documents and will pass on as much as I can.

Thanks

Nina Lakhani
The Independent
News Desk

Code A

*Please note I have moved from the Independent on Sunday

-----Original Message-----

From: LexisNexis(R) [Code A]
Sent: 26 October 2012 11:07
To: Nina Lakhani
Subject: E-mail Delivery from Nexis® UK