Thanks. As discussed I think we should go with Peter Mant. Whilst this seems expensive I do not see that any other option would be cheaper and we are already confident in Peter's work for us.

Hi Briony

We have heard back from Martin Chamberlain's clerk and he does not have capacity. We therefore checked with Peter Mant's clerk and Peter would be available and would like to do it. He estimates that it would take 3-4 weeks. Peter's standard hourly rate is £125 per hour but the clerk did say this was negotiable. I would have thought we could agree a fixed fee for the advice of perhaps £15,000. The only negative with Peter is that he would not be free to start work until a week on Monday (8 February) as he is in the European Court of Human Rights all next week. I think that still leaves CHRE plenty of time to convene a meeting before the deadline will expire.

Another option would be to go for a different junior at the same set as Peter, 39 Essex Street, called Jack Holborn (<http://www.39essex.co.uk/members/profile.php?cat=2&id=92>), who has an hourly rate of £100. He is free on Monday, but is in court every day for the rest of next week, although these are only 1 hour hearings so he would be able to come back and work on this.

I should be grateful if you could let me know what you would like to do.

Best regards

Richard

There's about 42 days of evidence. I'm not sure about the bundles as the panel secretary is not here this afternoon, but I understand they are very large.

Hi Danny

Please can you let us know how many days this case was heard for in total? Also, could you give us an indication of the size of the bundle/s of evidence?

Many thanks

Briony
